(White Oak Canyon Trail, to be exact)

March 19, 2005

Arranged and composed by Dean Katsavos, Celebrity Guest BTOR Writer

The Road to Shenandoah National Park...

Its mighty, rolling hills

We stopped to reload (sic) our supplies at this inviting little General Store.

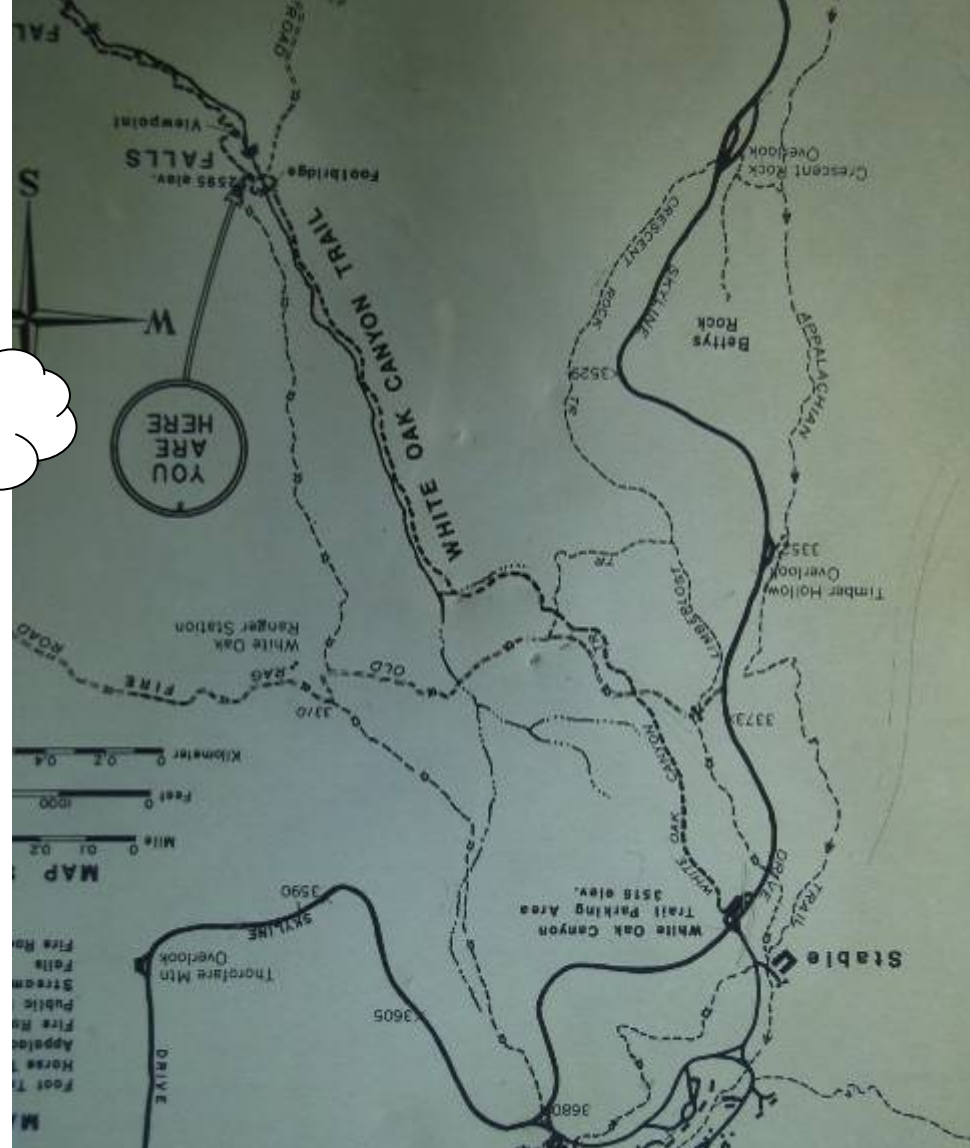

Clockwise from top left: Faith “Hope and Peace, man”, Joel “The Masseur”, Javier “Unnnggh”, Korin “Javier! Not again!!”, Jess “Miss Caanbra 2005”, Dan “Poker Face”, Jenny “Too pretty for a clever comment”, Stephanie “Reporting for duty”, Katie “Wanna buy a watch?”, Lee “Whose jacket is this”, Rebecca “Rutgers”, Dean “What do you mean, ‘More to the Right??!’”.

Missing from the picture: Jesh “I’m English, actually”, Elvis “The King”, Annie “Der Supercourierdienstleistungshund”.

We are here (right): Like all well-prepared and experienced hikers, we had our own map to help us find our way around the trail.

Jesh, you and Jessica head East. Katie and I will head South...first ones to the road call 911.

Weee, an adventure!

Where the hell are we (left): Captain Lee knew where we were at ALL times.

In preparation for the hike, Joel bought his equipment online – where they were having a 50% off sale.

Girl, lost: Korin becomes confused at the cross roads.

Mmm, donuts...

Ooh, look at the water...

Whose idea was this anyway...

Joel preferred the gourmet snacks he found in Rebecca's pack and followed her around all day...

Lee exceeded her "Hiking Ability" on the way back up the hill

I aspire, one day, to conquer the tallest mountain and plant my flag on the highest peak...and the people below will say, Hark! That is Korin of the Mountain!

Not in those shorts, sweetie...

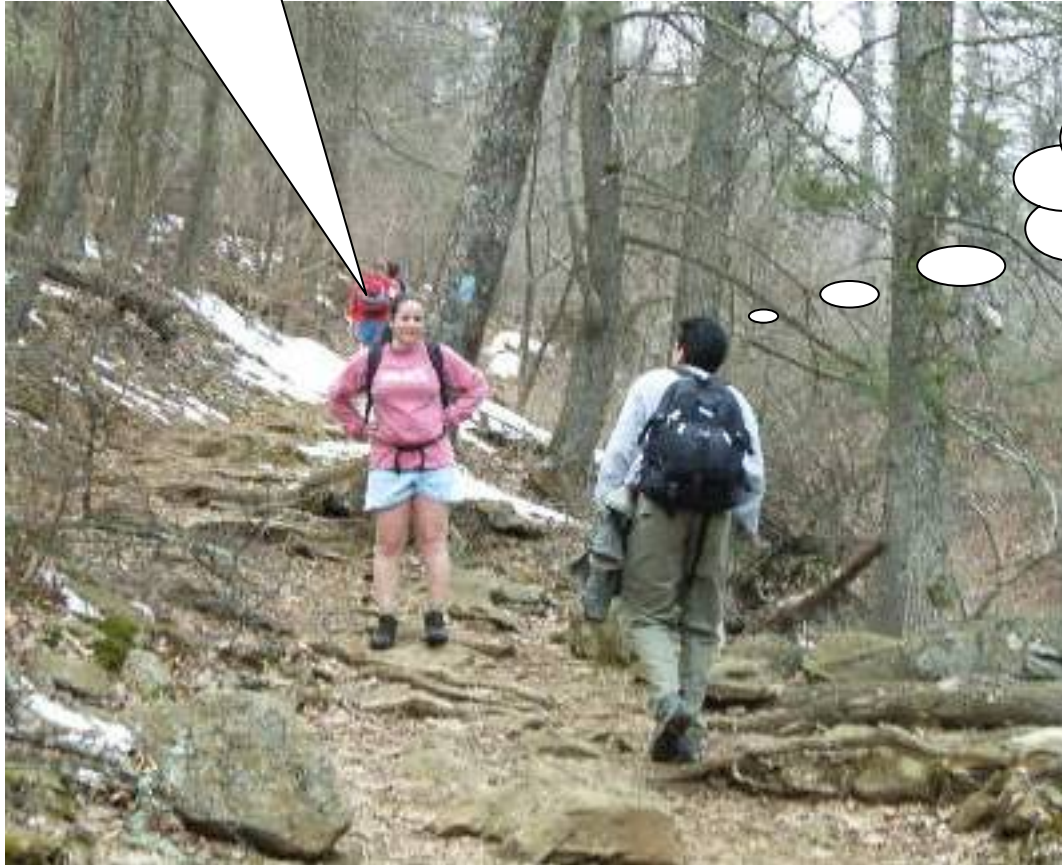

Jessica is poised to receive her “call of nature” – brought to you exclusively by Verizon,* with more coverage than any other carrier...

“A cascade of A** Kickers”

Look, would you stop laughing already!

Jejeje...climb
the mountain!

What we all came to see: trees and water and rocks and other nature stuff.

Oh, yeah, harder...

Having challenged the Gods' decree, Dan was forever condemned to moving large pieces of limestone for their sport; Odyssey, xi. 593

On time, anytime: Annie, on mission for the Doggie Postal Service

Huh..I'll show them...shorts or no shorts!

R & R: We finally make it back to the car park...

Dancing Troupe: Even at the end of the hike, Joel still had enough energy to entertain the group with a jig and his rendition of "I'm a little tea pot"

Food Stop: The conveniently named Diner, er, diner.

Smooth Opérateur (left): Jesh “English, from London...actually”, was a hit with the waitresses. Remember, chicks dig accents.
