edible socks

*They melt in your mouth
not on your feet*

"Get 'em while they are hot!!!"

... 'cos once they are cold, they are harder to chew...

Steve wonders why Megan must chew crackers so loudly during the presentation, while Bogo finds it so very amusing.

Behind me you see some, vines, and, er, some grass... and...a dog...right...

Ted, the wine guy, explains the basics necessary for operating a vineyard.

Rex demonstrates how to add that extra bite to a finely balanced Chardonnay.

To protect the vines, and scare off deer, the vineyard employs a highly-trained, vicious, two-legged furball.

Bogo was intent on checking out Ted's equipment.

"Is there equipment where you can manually stomp the grapes with your feet?"
